

The Living Word of the Buddha

The Buddha's Teachings in the Oldest Texts

Translations, essays & notes by Piya Tan ©2018c

Volume 53a

Truth and reality 1

1	53.1	S 56.30	Gavampati Sutta. Penetrating any of the 4 truths, penetrate all.
13	53.2	S 56.46	Andha,kāra Sutta. The dark interstices of outer space.
18	53.3	M 71	Te,vijja Vaccha,gotta Sutta. Buddha's knowledge and salvation.
23	(2.4)	It 7	Sabba Pariññā Sutta. Fully knowing all.
34	53.4	D 6	Mahāli Sutta. The true purpose of the spiritual life.
80	53.5	Essay	Diṭṭha suta muta viññāta. The 4 means of cognition.
108	53.6a-f	A 4+8	Vohāra Suttā. Wrong ways and right ways of speaking.
109	6a	A 4.247	(Catukka) Vohāra Sutta 1
109	6b	A 4.248	(Catukka) Vohāra Sutta 2
110	6c	A 4.249	(Catukka) Vohāra Sutta 3
110	6d	A 4.250	(Catukka) Vohāra Sutta 4
111	6e	A 8.67	(Aṭṭhaka) Vohāra Sutta 1
112	6f	A 8.68	(Aṭṭhaka) Vohāra Sutta 2
113	53.7	S 8.2	(Vaṅgīsa) Aratī Sutta. Self-counselling a lustful mind.
129	53.8	M 29	Mahā Sārōpama Sutta. Worldly success is not spiritual progress.
143	53.9	M 30	Cūḷa Sārōpama Sutta. Spiritual goal is not acquisition but awakening.
161	53.10	S 35.204	Kimsuka Sutta. True teachers teach according to the manner of their awakening. (2.1) Kimsukōpama Jātaka (J 248). 4 different means to the same awakening.
172	53.11	S 22.153	Micchā,diṭṭhi Sutta. Wrong view is the grasping of views.
180	(2)	S 35.164	Micchā,diṭṭhi Pahāna Sutta. Overcoming wrong views.
185	53.12	S 22.154	Sakkāya,diṭṭhi Sutta. Self-identity view is the grasping of craving.
186	(2)	S 35.165	Sakkāya,diṭṭhi Pahāna Sutta. Overcoming self-identity view.
192	53.13	S 35.155	Attā'nudiṭṭhi Sutta. Self-view is the grasping of conceit.
193	(2)	S 35.166	Attā'nudiṭṭhi Pahāna Sutta. The 6 senses are non-self.
198	53a		Bibliography.

Seeing true reality frees us from itself

Suttas: <http://dharmafarer.org> • Courses: <http://themindingcentre.org>

ISBN 978-981-11-8494-9

©2018 TAN Beng Sin
All rights reserved
Printed in Singapore

THE MINDING CENTRE, based in Singapore, is part of Piya Tan’s Dharma ministry. It was founded in 2006 to provide non-religious Dharma-based services to those in need of counsel and solace. It also serves as a haven and hub for those seeking Dharma by way of critical thinking, creative feeling, meditation, sutta translation and study, spiritual experience, and sharing that light and joy. The Centre also supports and promotes Piya Tan in his full-time Buddhist and related work.

Courses: <http://themindingcentre.org>

THE SUTTA DISCOVERY SERIES is part of the Living Word of the Buddha project which aspires to present and encourage an exploration of early Buddhism, both in a Dharma-inspired and academic manner for personal development as well as outreach work on a local and global scale. The Minding Centre and the Living Word of the Buddha project are motivated and guided by a quest for the historical Buddha and a vision of mere Buddhism.

Suttas: <http://dharmafarer.org>

THE MERE BUDDHIST VISION. We aspire to learn, teach and practise mere Buddha Dharma, or “non-religious Buddhism,” that is, Buddhism as simple as possible, as the teaching of the historical Buddha, so that it is open to all who seek true stillness and liberating wisdom. We aspire to compassionately and joyfully proclaim the possibility, necessity and urgency of gaining spiritual liberation in this life itself—at least as streamwinners, with or without dhyana—in keeping with the spirit of the Okkanta Samyutta (S 25). Mere Buddhism is easy: live it and be free.

Piya Tan (TAN Beng Sin), 1949-
Title: Sutta Discovery 53a. Theme: Truth and reality 1
Series: The living word of the Buddha (2002-)
First published 2018; publisher: the author
ISBN 978-981-11-8494-9

YOU can help Buddhism grow

Your pledge & support bring Dharma to others:

- Print Dharma and related books, and Internet Dharma
- Pledges for full-time Dharma work and global ministry (yearly budget $48,000)

*WE GIVE
for the sake of a beautiful mind,
as a support for the mind (in inner peace).
(Aṭṭha Dāna Sutta, A 8.31/4:236)*